Highlighted Guidance

What Works? Social and Economic Opportunities to Improve Health for All. This report outlines key steps toward building healthier and more equitable communities and features specific policies and programs that can improve social and economic opportunities and health for all. Policies and programs that are likely to reduce unfair differences in health outcomes are emphasized.

Community Stories:

- Buncombe County, NC: 2014 RWJF Culture of Health Prize Winner - Nestled in the Blue Ridge mountain range is a valley with a blend of urban and rural areas that make up Buncombe County, N.C., and the eclectic county seat of Asheville. Across this picturesque landscape a new Culture of Health is taking root. With the support of more than 70 organizations and thousands of individuals, the community is coming together to improve health outcomes—now and for generations to come.

- Vicksburg, MI: 2017 RWJF Culture of Health Prize Winner – Citizens are uniting to focus on core issues like decreasing the obesity rate and improving children’s learning environments.

Guest: Mothering Asheville: Community Centered Home Health

- Definition of Doula - A trained professional who provides continuous physical, emotional and informational support to a mother before, during and shortly after childbirth to help her achieve the healthiest, most satisfying experience possible.
• Mamatoto Village is a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization devoted to creating career pathways for Women of Color in the field of public health and human services; and providing accessible perinatal support services designed to empower women with the necessary tools to make the most informed decisions in their maternity care, their parenting, and their lives.
