Webinar Guest Resources

Chris Estes, Co-Executive Director, Aspen Institute
Community Strategies Group
Chris.Estes@AspenInstitute.org

- Rural Public Health and Health Care: A Scan of Field Practice and Trends addresses the overarching question: What are the potential pathways of influence for public health and health care to foster more prosperous, equitable and sustainable communities across rural America?

Highlighted Guidance

Imagine a future where communities and Native nations across the rural United States are healthy places where each and every person belongs, lives with dignity, and thrives. The Thrive Rural Framework is a resource designed to help community leaders, practitioners, policymakers, equity advocates, and other rural equity champions to take stock, target action, and gauge progress toward this vision of the future. It identifies the actions and conditions required at local- and system-levels to get there.
