Guidance

Check out the CHR&R data spotlight on disaster policy and economic inequities. Data spotlights take a key measure, data point, or trend and bring it to life with interactive data visualizations to show the realities of life beyond the numbers.

Visit the Beyond 2025 Action Hub from the Center for Innovation in Social Work & Health at Boston University. The hub helps spread awareness about potential policy impacts and provides resources to engage in community-building to take collective action. It also offers a comprehensive policy database, action toolkit, affinity groups, and other resources.

Discussion Group Resources

Better Together America is a nationwide, non-partisan network of local, regional, and state “civic hubs” that help build community resilience and civic capacity.

Braver Angels leads the nation’s largest cross-partisan volunteer-led movement to bridge the partisan divide and strengthen our country’s democracy. They work in the arts, education, faith, media, and other sectors.

CHR&R’s webinar, Data and strategies for disability equity and inclusion, shares information about data dashboards created to support evidence-based policies on this topic.

City Health Dashboard provides regularly updated data specific to neighborhood and/or city boundaries on an array of issues including life expectancy, park access, children in poverty, and more.

The FEMA Office of Disability Integration and Coordination provides tools, training, resources and strategies to help ensure that people with disabilities can participate in and benefit from programs and services during all phases of emergency management.

Finding missing government websites is a research guide from the University of Michigan Library.

The Internet Archive Wayback Machine enables you to capture, manage, and search collections of digital content saved over time.

Healthy Places by Design (HPbD)

Healthy Places by Design facilitated the post-webinar discussion group. Its Community Action Model was developed with insights from more than a dozen years supporting successful community health initiatives and a deep understanding of the community change process.
