

CREATING COMMUNITIES THAT THRIVE: INTERSECTION OF PUBLIC HEALTH & COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Peer-to-Peer Exchange From the 6/19/18 Webinar

Thank you for attending Communities that Thrive: The Intersection of Health & Community Development. Below is a list of the peer-to-peer resources and strategies shared in the chat box.

Your peers suggested these strategies to create communities that thrive:

- Housing first approaches to address homelessness
- Encouraging more accessibility: master pedestrian/bike/wheelchair/stroller plans
- Community Engaged Research: providing the community opportunities to speak about their perceived needs
- Mobile units for vision screening
- Mobile Farmer's Markets

Webinar Guest Sarah Norman (NeighborWorks America) suggested these links:

- CDCs, including NeighborWorks organizations, work with many partners. For example, New Kensington Community Development Corporation in Philadelphia worked with Rebuilding Together around healthy housing rehab in their community
- Community HousingWorks
- Hudson River Housing is a NeighborWorks organization
