Let's Continue the Conversation!

Join us for this interactive experience that will provide you with an opportunity to connect and learn with leaders and members from other communities via video conference or phone. This will be a more intimate and focused discussion following the “Improving Health through Equitable Economic Development and Strategic Partnerships” webinar. We encourage you to join us for the discussion group even if you were not able to participate in the October 24 webinar (you can listen to the recording of the webinar and review the related resources on our website):

<http://www.countyhealthrankings.org/webinars/past>. Together, we will:

- Engage in deep learning and exploration about the connection between economic development and health and what it means in your community.
- Connect with others who share an interest in continuing the conversation about health, equitable economic development and strategic partnerships.

This session will provide a forum where you can ask for and inform others about key resources and strategies, share your successes, gain input and insights from other communities, and collaborate with like-minded participants.

You may join via video conference and/or phone to participate in the conversation. Use of video conference is highly recommended so you can meet others and talk face-to-face.

Please join us, and share this invitation with your partners and encourage them to join us! Space is limited – register early at Registration link:
